SENATE COMMITTEE ON STATE GOVERNMENT & ELECTIONS

Staff: Samuel Brown (786-7470)

Background: Under the state Constitution, if a vacancy occurs in the Office of the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor fulfills the duties of the office. If, during the first two years of a Governor's term, the office is vacated more than thirty days before the next scheduled general election, the state Constitution mandates that an election to fill that vacancy occur at the general election.

Under statute, only certain matters may appear on a statewide general election ballot in odd-numbered years:

- election of municipal officers;
- election to fill the remainder of an unexpired term in the United States Senate or House of Representatives;
