EFFECT: Makes the following changes to the Department of Commerce's action on a county's or city's application to review adopted housing development regulations or an adopted housing element:

- Requires Commerce to issue a final decision on a determination of compliance or housing element approval within 180 days of receipt of the application, rather than requiring Commerce to strive to issue a final decision.
- Specifies that a county's or city's housing development regulations or housing element are deemed to be in compliance with state law if Commerce does not issue a final decision within 180 days.
- Specifies that a county's or city's adopted housing development regulations or housing element are effective 180 days after Commerce's receipt of the application, or when Commerce issues its final decision, whichever occurs sooner.
- Allows a county or city whose adopted housing development regulations are approved through Commerce's failure to act within 180 days to receive preference for grants and loans, rather than only counties or cities whose housing development regulations are approved through a Commerce decision, a Growth Management Hearings Board decision, or a judicial decision.
