

WAC 208-630-360 When may the director conduct an investigation?

The director or designee may conduct investigations at any time, in or outside of the state, to determine whether any person has violated or is about to violate chapter 31.45 RCW, these rules, or any order issued under these laws and rules. This includes a licensee or a business that may be conducting transactions requiring a license. For these purposes the director or designee may conduct inquiries, interviews and examinations of any person relevant to the investigation.
